With the retirement of Sheriff Semrad, it was suggested to present him with his service revolver and to have it engraved.

Commissioner Tubbs made the motion to approve the presentation of his service revolver to Jeff Semrad who is retiring as the county sheriff.
Commissioner Firth seconded and the motion carried.

Tax assessments – Sheryl Rosenhoover came before the board to question the increased assessment of a property she owns. The increase doubled the assessed amount and she indicated that the property has remained unchanged since she purchased it. The commissioner said they would look into the situation and made a decision at a later date, when more information was available.

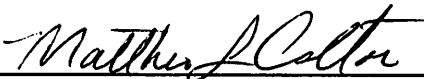

A survey is being conducted by the Utah Geological society and they have offered to extend their survey into Oneida County at no cost. The survey will result in mapping that may be useful in helping the county prepare for possible earthquakes in the future.

Both Commissioners present indicated that this would be a good opportunity and that the county should allow the Utah Geological survey to cover Oneida County.

With no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Max C. Firth, Chairman

Matthew L. Colton, Clerk
